

Press Release

In the hope that there will be an end to confusion and pain, Uncle Slack Productions has decided to release the universal answer in the form of the magic formula:

$$\text{Existence} \times \frac{\text{Melody}}{\text{Rhythm}} \pm 3 \text{ minutes of distraction}$$

The formula is proved in Uncle Slack Productions first release by gamma ray sam - "She's on the Money" - CD single to be released in April 2005 (available online now)

Radio1 website:

"The moment 'This is Yours' kicks in you know there's something different about Gamma Ray Sam - GRS are no one-trick pony with an alluring pastoral vibe that urinates on the likes of Badly Drawn Boy from a great height. Job well done, then."

Honey Records:

"Twists of country and folk intermingled with casio keyboard beats and pop keys or noise that swirls beneath a dour vocal. The music is engaging enough but it acts only as a beacon for the observational and contradictory lyrics that do a rare thing in indie/pop music these days and actually make you think."

Dom Bryan is the Singer/Songwriter with leftfield observationalists - gamma ray sam. After a period pursuing a completely different career, through his early twenties, he reached the age of 25...

At this point he decided he had to leave the well-trodden path and continue along the bumpy and twisty path, without any kind of small, hairy, big footed ginger lamp holder to guide him.

gamma ray sam have been recording over the past 18 months with various musicians contributing, and finally the right tunes have surfaced to open the bidding on a forthcoming single - 'She's on the Money'.

The band are currently gigging and completing work on the debut album which will be out this year.